EASTBAY PREPARED TO COMBAT CRIME

POLICE READY TO DEAL WITH ALL CRIMINALS

Oakland, Berkeley, Piedmont and Alameda Chiefs Form Squads With Shotguns, Autos for Crisis

FINAL WARNINGS ARE ISSUED

Recognizing the gravity of the wave of lawlessness which has held a score of large Eastern cities in a siege of terrorism for a number of weeks past, and aware of its rapid spread toward the Pacific Coast, the Alameda County Grand Jury has taken cognizance of the impending situation, and has already adopted a course to insure the preparedness of the machinery of the law to cope with any emergency which may arise. It became known today.

Within the past few days Ben F. Shapiro, foreman of the Grand Jury, has been in conference several times with Police Commissioner F. F. Morse discussing the best methods of combating the expected crime wave in order to preserve public peace and safety. Tentative plans to stamp out existing vice evils and combat threatened outbreaks of outlaws were discussed in detail, Morse admitted today.

At the same time a number of civic and improvement organizations in the city have announced their determination to join forces with the authorities and lend assistance to the task of eliminating present undesirable and keeping the city safe from newcomers driven from other communities.

Simultaneously, faced with the serious problem of reinforcing their present safeguards to the utmost, heads of the police departments of Oakland, Berkeley, Piedmont and Alameda bent their energies today toward the immediate launching of a concerted campaign to throw an impassable barrier around the Eastern communities to prevent a further influx of the expected undesirable and criminal element from the east.

ORDINANCE AIMED AT SUSPICIOUS CHARACTERS
The first offensive gun in warfare against crime and lawlessness was fired in Oakland today when Commissioner Morse introduced an ordinance designed to strike against the menace of suspicious characters prowling about in residence neighborhoods and making house to house canvasses under pretext of peddling. The ordinance prohibits any person from peddling or canvassing in the city, and that they produce credentials of good character and a clean record when applying for the permit.

Anxious to co-operate with the police and legal authorities, two civic organizations, the Oakland Chamber of Commerce and the Up-town Association, have adopted resolutions declaring for the permanent closing of the Municipal Auditorium to prize fights in an effort to discourage undesirable elements from coming to Oakland. The resolutions were passed after a long session of the city council, and will pass after resolutions and present them to the city authorities.

It has not been foreman Shapiro for a day or two, but he is today in discussing his conference with the grand jury foreman, "but he and I have already had two or three conferences about present vice conditions and impending crime evils."

"My attitude I have publicly stated," the commissioner continued, "I think that the situation is indeed serious, but not an occasion for public hysteria. I believe, however, that the present situation in this regard in Oakland is somewhat better than most other cities."

CONSIDER METHODS TO CURB LAWLESSNESS
Commissioner Morse said that he and Shapiro discussed the various angles of the matter, ways and means of curbing vice conditions and fighting new forms of lawlessness, but that no actual action was taken in the program to enforce drastic measures in case of necessity.

Following its adoption by the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce last night, the resolution calling on city officials to keep the Municipal Auditorium closed to prize fights, was forwarded to the city council today. The text of the resolution reads: "That the city of Oakland, in view of the fact that the Municipal Auditorium is a place of public assembly, and that the holding of prize fights therein is a source of public nuisance and a threat to the peace and safety of the city, the city council hereby resolves that the Municipal Auditorium be and it is the duty of the city officials to keep the same closed to prize fights."

WILL NOT CHECK PRECAUTIONARY PLANS
While preparedness measures to stem the tide of the approaching crime wave were being formulated, and put into effect by the combined forces of the police, sheriffs' office and civic organizations, reports of the violations of all sorts made in the Eastbay cities showed a marked falling off. This, however, was not taken as an indication that the danger is less serious, nor did it serve as a deterrent in the adoption of precautionary measures, police assured.

Heads of the Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda and Piedmont police departments all recognize, they declare, that this region of the Pacific coast is confronted with a menacing criminal influx which cannot be met and overcome by a despatch of existing police and county forces. They are, therefore, adopting new ones as they develop, by the adoption of drastic measures.

Developments in War on Crime

Today's developments in the preparedness campaign against the threatened outbreak of widespread criminal operations in the Eastbay communities include the following:

ONE—Grand Jury acts to insure preparedness of police machinery to cope with threatened situation.

TWO—Police heads of Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda, Piedmont and other Eastbay cities open campaign of warfare against invasion of undesirable and criminal element.

THREE—Many civic organizations pledge support and co-operation to the authorities in enforcement of law and order.

FOUR—Chief Vollmer of Berkeley orders double shift of uniformed and plain clothes officers on duty night and day. Piedmont police force announces addition of fifty American Legionnaires as auxiliary special officers.

FIVE—Commissioner Morse opens offensive in war on undesirable in proposing new restrictive ordinance to City Council.

Senator Invades White House for Lost Mines Bill

Peeved When Denied News of Measure, Arizona Solon Demands Action

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—Some what ruffled by his failure to secure information from the White House executive offices for three successive days, Senator Ashurst of Arizona this afternoon thrust policeman and clerks aside and went to the White House, announcing that he intended to see the President. Senator Ashurst sought information concerning the status of the bill, which he introduced last month, providing for the return of the lost mines of the West.

"Well, I am an American citizen and a United States Senator and I intend to see the President," Senator Ashurst declared, leaving the executive offices in a huff, and, walking up the main entrance, he entered the White House proper.

The Senator had come first to the executive offices, where he was told the President had the bill. At the White House he was told the bill was at the executive offices.

Returning to the executive offices, the Senator took a seat with the announced purpose of remaining until he got a frank and manly statement as to what the President intended to do with the bill.

"I want to calm down," the Senator told a White House attaché who offered him a chair. "I am sorry if I have acted in an unseemly manner," the Senator said. "But this bill is of the most importance to miners of the West, for unless they know immediately whether it has been passed, they cannot begin to plan their future. Because it has not been passed, they must start their improvements on their claims before December 31."

GANGSTER ADMITS HE LURED GIRLS

James Carey Includes His Friend, Brady, in Incident Which Led Up to Assault Upon Two Women in Den

Case Will Be Given to Jury Late This Afternoon: Prisoner in His Own Words Confesses Enticing Victims

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 29.—A jury of nine men and three women will have it within their power to decide the fate of James Carey, the third of the Howard street gangsters to stand trial, late this afternoon. Both the defense and state rested their cases, shortly after 11:15 o'clock this morning, and Assistant District Attorney Stanislaus Riley immediately began his opening address. Arguments for both sides have been limited each to one and one-half hours.

"You jurors," declared Riley, "have been in the unique position of having heard one of the most revolting cases ever brought to a local court. Of course you have heard more or less hardened by varying sordid cases incorporating gruesome details, but never in all my experience has a story so revolting and degrading been told as has fallen from the lips of those two young girls."

CAREY ENCOUNTERED GIRLS IN MISSION DISTRICT

Carey described how he had encountered the girls on Saturday night, and how he had lured them to the premises at 1256 1/2 Howard street. He asserted he left the house because he was afraid of the girls.

He testified that the girls had been with him for some time, and that he had been with them for some time.

420 MILLION CUT IS MADE IN BUDGET BILL

First Supply Measure Reported to Congress Reveals Radical Pruning of Estimates of Various Bureaus

Ship Board Is Refused Further Treasury Aid: $300,000 Asked for 'Dry' Work Turned Down: Soldiers Cared for

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—A total of $572,961,721 was recommended by the House appropriations committee today for the Postoffice Department during the fiscal year 1922. This is $112,121 less than that asked by postal officials but $39,730,021 more than the appropriation for this year.

LEAVE ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—The Senate bill carrying a total of $572,961,721 was recommended by the House appropriations committee today for the Postoffice Department during the fiscal year 1922. This is $112,121 less than that asked by postal officials but $39,730,021 more than the appropriation for this year.

Indicating a desire to put government expenditures on a pre-war basis, the committee first taking care of the deficit by cutting $1,000,000 from the total, and then making a total of $572,961,721.

The largest single reduction, $147,000,000, applies to the shipping board, which is to be supported entirely out of various sources of income.

Request from the Department of Justice for $100,000 for enforcement of the national prohibition act was eliminated entirely. The sum of $13,000 was appropriated, however, for suppressing liquor traffic in Alaska.

PRUNING KNIFE USED ON BUREAU HEADS

Other principal slashes in the amounts asked by the government departments included a cut of $1,000,000 from the War risk insurance, $57,000,000, vocational education, $13,000,000, military posts, $60,942,112, national meteorology, $13,000,000, flood control, $1,000,000, public health service, $5,000,000, public buildings, $6,758,000, bureau of mines, $2,112,000, and Department of the Interior, $12,000,000.

The bill includes $223,700,000 on account of military and naval compensation for death or disability of soldiers and sailors, medical and hospital service, and vocational training of the bureau of war risk insurance and vocational rehabilitation of soldiers, sailors and marines, all growing out of the world war.

RECLAMATION SERVICE IS GIVEN INCREASE

The principal increases over this year's appropriation were $11,800,000 for the reclamation service, $1,200,000 for national home for disabled war veterans, $1,000,000 for health, and $1,000,000 for the 40-cent printing office.

The appropriation proposed on account of medical and hospital service for 1922 is $13,000,000 less than the total for 1921.

While there was an apparent reduction of $2,700,000 from the amount requested for 1922, the vocational training bill provides for reappropriation of unexpended balances estimated at $10,000,000, making the total proposed for this service $75,000,000.

NAVY MILITARY POSTS CUT TO SKELETON

Appropriations for Alaska, including $4,000,000 for railroads, $24,000,000 for a $100,000 for medical relief, $1,000,000 for care of the blind, $1,000,000 for protection of game and $1,000,000 for the national park service. For the support of anti-trust laws, $1,000,000 is provided against the $1,000,000 asked by the Department of Justice. The shipping board appropriation of $147,000,000 is cut to $145,000,000.

For the support of the military post, $1,000,000 is provided against the $1,000,000 asked by the Department of the Interior. The total proposed for this service is $1,000,000.

"Sam'l o' Posen" Passes Away in L. A. Hospital

M. B. Curtis Famous for "Drummer" Characterization His Fortune Spent in Defense of Murder Charge

Actor Who Gained Notoriety After Shooting of Policeman in San Francisco Closes His Eventful Career a Pauper

Residents of Berkeley in Late Eighties Remember Active Promotion Work Done in Development of Home Tract

M. B. Curtis, by birth Morris B. Stelling, once famous actor and one of the most romantic figures of the early California, is dead today in the county hospital in Los Angeles. The man who long ago amassed a fortune in the character role of the drummer in the play "Sam'l o' Posen," died a pauper. Among his intimates he was called by this name.

More than a quarter of a century ago Curtis was involved in San Francisco in a criminal case that for a while was a scandal in the courts. The man who long ago amassed a fortune in the character role of the drummer in the play "Sam'l o' Posen," died a pauper. Among his intimates he was called by this name.

ENTERTAINMENT LIVES IN HIS EASTBAY HOME

Residents of the college city of the late eighties remember the man who entertained lavishly in the home now occupied by St. Joseph's Academy in Berkeley, Calif.

It was in 1888 that Curtis built the towered, spacious building just over the Berkeley line in Albany, his home where he established an actor's hotel to attract stage celebrities from all parts of the world when they arrived in San Francisco to fill engagements.

For some reason his plan failed and he and his wife moved into the one portion of the big structure. Later the building was sold to a Fresno capitalist for a vineyard site, but this time too there was no fruit.

In 1904 it was disposed of to an order of Brothers for the establishment of the present St. Joseph's Academy.

CURTIS HAD MOST VARIED CAREER

Actor, playwright, landowner, promoter, moving picture director and poet, Curtis had a varied career in the years he spent in the bay region.

Councilman George Schmidt of Berkeley was his partner in real estate for two years. With no funds at his disposal, Curtis secured from an insurance company the Perella Park tract, including hundreds of acres at the northern end of the city, and then attracted capitalists to Berkeley to buy and develop the land. J. P. Ordway, eastern capitalist, was among them.

At the time Curtis was in the bay region, he was a moving picture director and poet. He had a varied career in the years he spent in the bay region.

Former Associates Tell of Remarkable Personality as Entertainer and Love for His Famous Stage Title

Curtis was famous as a host. No one ever reflected an invitation to his home. He was one of the most eccentric, but one of the finest men I ever knew. It is no surprise that he died in a county hospital. He got his money easily and he spent it just as easily. Speculation and gambling took his fortune from him.

J. C. McMullen, whose son is a well known Oakland banker, was another business associate of Curtis, while the late Edward B. Newhouse, former school director of Berkeley, was a close friend.

His love for recognition, Posen station on the Southern Pacific line in West Berkeley bears the stage name which he loved, because he paid the railroad company money to have it named after him. Hearing of the impending advent of a baby in South Berkeley, Curtis paid the prospective mother a large sum of money to have the infant bear the name of "Sam'l o' Posen."

By birth Curtis was a Jew. He soon dropped his real name, however, for his stage titles. His wife was a Frenchman.

Despite his eccentricities, Curtis gave to Berkeley one of the most attractive residential tracts in the city, one which a score of years ago knew some of the handsomest homes in Berkeley.

Uchida Says He Views Vanderlip Grant as Menace

Minister Tells Why Japan Refuses Recognition of Siberia Concessions

TOKYO, Dec. 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—Concessions in Kamchatka granted to Washington by Vanderlip of California by the Russian government might prove a serious menace to Japan, Vice-Minister Uchida, Japanese foreign minister, told a delegation of the opposition party which visited him today.

He pointed out, however, that the United States had not recognized the concessions because America had not recognized the Soviet government.

The delegation also questioned the ministers of war and navy and both replied that if reports concerning the concessions were true, the situation held a menace to Japan from the viewpoint of defense, but declined to express any further opinion in the absence of confirmation of these reports.

Uchida also informed the delegation that although the league of nations had admitted a principle in the right of Australia to send warships to the Pacific, Japan had declared her intention to limit the principle of equal opportunity and would continue to maintain this attitude. He declared, however, he was unable to forecast the future course of the question.

Harding's selections for Secretary of State and Secretary of the Treasury, however, are expected to be known within a few days. At the same time, he may make public the name of one or two others of whom he has definitely decided to mention.

Aside from the seven names mentioned, recent gossip about Harding headquarters has brought to the fore the names of several possibilities who either have been or may be of Cabinet speculations. Among these is Joseph Dixon of Montana, prominently mentioned for Secretary of the Interior.

There is also talk of a New York, discussed for Secretary of Commerce or the Treasury, and A. T. Hert of Kentucky, whose name has been associated with the port-

CHILDREN WILL GIVE PROGRAM

The children's holiday matinee is an event for tomorrow. With a school orchestra and chorus and Camp Fire girls as ushers, a cast of more than 400 children from Oakland's playgrounds will put on one of the most spectacular programs of the season. No adult will be admitted to the 2:30 p. m. show in the Municipal opera house without a child companion. It will be the youngsters' own day.

The "Tree Triumphant," the Christmas play of Carolyn Wells, "The Dream Toyland" and "Mother Goose Up to Date" are the three plays which will make up the program. The parts in the more ambitious offering of the "Tree Triumphant" have been distributed among 250 boys and girls from all the playgrounds. The De Fremery children will put on "The Dream Toyland," with the Tompkins playground young people producing the "Mother Goose" number. Mrs. E. A. Hollington is directing the dramatic work.

Christmas carols will be sung by the audience led by a trained chorus. Mrs. Grace Boyles, director of music at the Cole school, has rehearsed the children.

Not even the orchestral features of the matinee are to be omitted. The combined orchestras of the Emerson and Lafayette schools have been rehearsing through vacation under Director Albert M. Humphrey for the opening concert and numbers between the acts.

The children's matinee is an innovation at Oakland. Jay E. Nash, superintendent of recreation, is the authority that the entire production will be of no expense to the city. The costumes have been loaned from the wardrobe of the recreation department.

DOROTHY GISH WRECKS AEROPLANES, HEARTS AND HOMES AT THE FRANKLIN

Peppy comedienne has never had a more enjoyable comedy than "Flying Pat" in which she takes the audience up in the air and keeps them there.

Dorothy Gish is a scream as the newly-wed bride who makes aviation her career by request of her hubby. Her career goes up in the air, however, when she wrecks her plane the first time up and is found by hubby in a roadhouse in company of her handsome flying teacher. "Flying Pat" is a scream from start to finish, due to the swift moving story and Miss Gish's pert whimsicalities.—Advertisement.

WOMEN of Great Eastbay

Geraldine King Makes Debut at St. Francis

The debut of Miss Geraldine King at the St. Francis hotel last evening was the most notable event of the week for the debutante sets on both sides of the bay. Miss King is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dale King of Piedmont, who formally presented their daughter to their friends in the Italian room of the hotel. Supper was served in an adjoining room.

Miss King was gown in a chiton frock of palest pink over flesh-toned satin, the gown being embroidered in silver and ribbon.

Mrs. Arthur Dale King was in dark brown spangled silk net over cloth of gold. Several of the debutantes assisted in receiving. They were Miss Elizabeth Magee, Miss Elizabeth Piles, Miss Verne de Vere Adams, Miss Doris and Miss Elizabeth Schmiedell. The rooms abounded with beautiful baskets of flowers, presented to the debutante by her many friends about the bay.

The affair being a dinner dance, places were set for one hundred and twenty-five of the younger set.

Miss King is to be the motif for many interesting parties during the next few months.

Salt Lake City Preparing for Club Women

By EDNA B. KINARD

The council of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, the great international meeting which alternates with the biennial, will go to Salt Lake City in June. Even in the midst of the holiday festivities the Utah clubwomen are deep in plans for the entertainment of the several hundred visitors whom they expect. Six months is not too far away according to them to begin to make ready for their invited guests. The federation is doing its part in pledging the most brilliant men and women of the nation to the programs. Salt Lake is taking stock of its attractions and cataloguing them for the benefit of the strangers within its gates. Already the declaration has gone forth from the hostesses that their state leads in education, art, music, home economics and women in industry and in handling many of the problems with which the council concerns itself. They will ask opportunity to demonstrate their progress.

Salt Lake is blessed with a Pledgers' Club which includes not only the women but the men executives in its personnel. This organization in which the Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary, Kiwanis, Advertising, Progressive and Business Men's Clubs have voice, has pledged its support to the council meeting and has launched plans for the entertainment of the delegates. The earlier month witnessed two big benefits sponsored by the clubwomen in the local theater, the proceeds from which will contribute to the pleasure of the delegates.

HOSPITALITY OFFERED CLUB WOMEN

Club women along the itinerary of the general federation club leaders are petitioning to be permitted to offer hospitality to them. All sorts of delightful plans are in the making. From Santa Fe and the New Mexico Federation comes a plea for a visit. The Woman's Board of Trade, the Fifteen Club, and the Santa Fe Woman's Club have joined in the invitation.

The Christmas jinks of the Business and Professional Women's Club will interrupt the lull in clubdom which has marked the holiday week. Tomorrow at Hotel Harrison, several social events will be held. The gathering for luncheon and the surprises which have been promised by the leaders. Santa Claus will distribute to some of the members packages significant of their natural characteristics. Mrs. Elizabeth MacGibbon, president, will preside.

The Advertising Club has included in its program a luncheon invitation for Tuesday next, extending to Mrs. MacGibbon the honor of presiding as chairman.

The women will be largely represented at the conference on vice conditions which will be called for tonight at the Elks Club.

Not a dull moment is looked for on Tuesday when Rockridge Woman's Club devotes the entire day to its own pleasure and business. It will be a big family party which will gather about the luncheon board to usher in the year as well as the month. Glenn H. Wood, director of music in the public schools of Oakland, will be the only outsider. He has been invited to lead the community singing to which a half hour of a busy session will be devoted. The Rockridge women have an important accumulation of matters to dispose of, as well as the making of their resolutions for the new year. These include a clubhouse on the site recently purchased in Ocean View avenue.

BOY SCOUTS TO BE GUESTS

Boy Scouts are to be the special guests of the Oakland Club next week illustrating the address with which Abe F. P. will outline the movement. The lads of Troop 11 will put on some of their work for the pleasure of their hostesses. The club is opening its quarters at 2 p. m. to guests. A business session at 2 p. m. will precede the program. An illustrated travelogue and a card party are on the calendar for the later month.

International relations are deeply interesting to the women of California Branch, Association of Collegiate Alumnae. For the purpose of going to the annual meeting of the association, a reading section has been formed under the leadership of Miss Marion Leale. The initial meeting is scheduled for Thursday, January 6, in the headquarters across the bay. It will take a number of the university women from this side.

The January meeting of Oakland War Mothers, when the program of the new year will be carefully worked out for the most important service to the boys who have donned their uniforms, will take place in Memorial hall on Thursday, January 13. The membership roll is being rapidly augmented as mothers are learning of the purpose of the new group. Mrs. C. J. Waterhouse is president.

WOMAN IS SAVED FROM STRANGER BY HEART SPELL

BERKELEY, Dec. 29.—That an attack of heart trouble which rendered her unconscious saved Mrs. Emilie Vollmar Meek, 18-year-old bride of S. Frank Meek, 1114 Alameda way, from an assailant in her home on Monday night, she declares. When she recovered the man to the house of her grandfather two doors away, where she again fainted and it was ten minutes before she could tell her story.

Mrs. Meek suffers from periodic heart attacks. When she became ill her assailant thought he had killed her, says the police.

Detective Sergeant J. A. Greening, who has been investigating the case, has been furnished with a minute description of the man by Mrs. Meek. Finger prints left by the man upon entering a closet window have been photographed.

Mrs. Meek believes the man is a "MAN BELIEVED DANGEROUS."

That the man is dangerous is believed by the fact that as he seized Mrs. Meek he laughed derisively at her attempts to free herself from his embrace, she says, but did not speak. "He just laughed at me," she says. "I'll remember him as long as I live. I could pick him out in a thousand men."

Mrs. Meek tells of herself and husband being followed home by a man answering the same description as that of her assailant a few evenings before. She also tells of a "terrifying" automobile which followed the stage which her husband was driving on the night of the attack and on which she was a passenger on two round trips to Richmond because she was lonely.

When she finally left the stage she saw no one following her she says.

ATTACK WAS BOLD

The attack upon Mrs. Meek is declared by the police to be one of the boldest in the history of the city. The little bride put up a valiant fight before she was seized with the heart attack was evidenced by her torn clothes and scratches on her chest and face. Curtains were torn down in the house and the tiny Christmas tree in the living room thrown from its stand.

Mrs. Meek's parents reside at 1116 San Pablo avenue, Berkeley. Her father, a former Oakland policeman, is now employed by the Western Motor Transportation Company.

American Shipping In Islands Growing

MANILA, P. I. Dec. 29.—The feature of the development of the foreign trade of the Philippine Islands for the month of September was the gain made by American shipping over that of the British in the carrying trade to and from the islands.

Vessels of American registry plying in Philippine waters carried imports and exports of the islands, the value of which was $9,537,000 and $10,045,000 as against $8,500,000 and $9,000,000 for British vessels for the same month last year. The total foreign trade of the Philippine Islands during September amounted to $21,700,000, a gain of $400,000 over the trade of September, 1919.

GARAGE OFFERS REWARD

SILVERMORE, Dec. 29.—John G. Garage, 2010 Broadway, has offered the arrest and conviction of the burglar or burglars who last Saturday night broke into his garage at Ulmar, on the State Highway four miles east of Lawrence, by paying the lock of a rear door, by prying away with $700 worth of automobile tires, supplies and tools.

WOOLGROWERS TO DEMAND TARIFF

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Dec. 29.—The legislative committee of the National Woolgrowers' association, now in Washington, D. C., will make a demand for a tariff on wool.

The committee is in the way of emergency governmental action at the fifty-sixth annual convention of the association, which will be held here January 17-19. It will also report on plans in connection with enactment of a permanent tariff bill under the new administration.

Thomas Walker Page, chairman of the tariff committee, is expected to discuss costs of wool and lamb production, as shown by the data gathered by his committee during the last three seasons for presentation to Congress.

All the convention discussions will center around the question of legislation, finance and ranch management, according to F. R. Marshall, secretary of the association. Governor W. P. G. Harding, of the federal reserve board, has accepted an invitation to speak on financial matters, including relationships of the federal reserve system. If congressional affairs interfere with his coming to Salt Lake, he is expected to send a number of the board who will take his place at the convention.

One-half day will be devoted to a round table session of adjusting range management of the hands of sheep to present business conditions. This will include matters of types of sheep, labor costs, land leasing and purchasing.

Senator-elect Stanfield of Oregon and Senator-elect Frank R. Gooding of Idaho will give addresses. Will C. Barnes of the United States forest service will speak on a special report and discussion upon sheep yard questions, including rates charged by livestock commission houses, will be made.

The report of the critical situation in which the wool producing business is declared to be today, a record attendance is expected.

BOILERMAKER AND 'BREW' ARE TAKEN

BERKELEY, Dec. 29.—Taken in custody in a raid on his home at 1820 Sixth street last night together with two aunts and fifteen gallons of beer, a boilermaker and a brewer were taken into custody.

Letters of Terrie Joe.

DEAR JOE:

Say, Joe, a man with a camera stopped me while I was out wheeling the baby today, and he had quite an attractive proposition. The idea was that for five dollars he would take the baby's picture and enter it in a big prize baby contest that is to be held at the next world's fair with prizes aggregating from $3000 down, or up, I forget which. Anyways, as soon as he took just a slight glance at the baby he saw at once that the little angel couldn't help taking one of the big prizes, so I gave him the five on the principle that nothing entered coming lost, and so took the picture.

Now of course I've got a receipt for the five, Joe, because I always insist on a receipt for everything, the only trouble being that I invariably always lose them. But I am I have a legitimate receipt, though I must admit that I can't quite make out the name signed to it—I think it's either Johnson or Carpenter, by the general appearance of it, but what's worry.

ing me is, I'm just realizing that I haven't heard anything about any new world's fair. Have you heard of any, Joe? Do you think there's any chance of me having been imposed on? He was an honest looking young man with a respectable little mustache, but of course you never can tell unless you're quite sure.

But if there really is such a contest and the man really enters the baby's picture in it, I'm positive he'll win one of the first prizes, if not the very first, and after all it might be rather embarrassing if he won the very first, because all the papers would be wanting to print his picture and even asking for interviews with him and all those sort of things.

Because really, Joe, the more I see of other people's babies the more relieved I am that ours isn't anybody else's, if you know what I mean. How a man with your absence of beauty, Joe, can be the father of such a baby will always be one of the miracles to me. Lovingly, TESSIE.

Richmond Sues to Prevent Joint Use of Oakland Mole

The city of Richmond today filed suit in the Superior court at Marin against the Santa Fe and Southern Pacific railroads and the State Railroad commission, asking that an injunction be issued forbidding enforcement of the commission's order directing joint use of the Oakland mole terminal by the Santa Fe and the Southern Pacific.

The city also asked that an order be issued prohibiting employees of the two companies from aiding in the enforcement of the commission's order, which is running through Richmond and connecting the two systems, using this connecting line.

The city petitioned the court to issue an order enforcing the Santa Fe by Richmond to construct and maintain this line.

HEARING TUESDAY

Superior Judge E. McKenzie has set Tuesday at 10 a. m. as the time for the defendants in the suit to show cause why the injunction should not be issued.

Richmond asks:

An injunction preventing the Railroad Commission from ordering joint use of the Oakland terminal by the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe.

An order forbidding either employee of the Santa Fe railroad itself from operating trains over the tracks connecting the Richmond Santa Fe yards with the Oakland mole terminal.

An order enforcing the recent ruling of the Richmond City Council revoking the Santa Fe's permit to operate trains over the connecting line.

STORY OF GROWTH

The complaint recited the story of the establishment and growth of Richmond from the past eighteen years. It said that following the establishment of the Santa Fe terminal at Richmond eighteen years ago, the city has grown from little more than a settlement to an important bay city. Industries, according to the complaint, were established there on account of the terminal facilities offered by the Santa Fe. Under such circumstances, the complaint alleged, removal of the Santa Fe terminal to Oakland would constitute a fraud.

Following a mass meeting of citizens at the Richmond Chamber of Commerce rooms last evening, the attitude of the City Council in fighting efforts to remove the Santa Fe terminal to Oakland was upheld and the council resolved to go to the next Monday, that the earliest solution of the whole situation will be for the company to resume its old terminal facilities at Richmond.

When the hearing recessed until this afternoon Burckhalter was sitting on the stand and Richmond was sitting quietly back obviously with the "say" of the whole matter up to its city council.

GREAT BRITAIN MAY TAKE HAND IN U.S.-JAPAN TREATY

By WILLIAM L. MALLABAR, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

LONDON, Dec. 29.—Great Britain may take a hand in the Japanese treaty negotiations, it was reported in diplomatic circles today. According to information from a creditable source, Great Britain would make formal protest should California amend her anti-alien land ownership measure to prevent all owners from owning property instead of aiming the injunction solely against the Japanese.

This was only one of many sensational reports current among diplomats regarding the American-Japanese negotiations.

Information has been received and was the subject of considerable comment that the United States is considering allowing the Japanese unrestricted immigration into the Philippine islands. This, however, if granted, would be in the nature of a compromise.

Representatives of Canada, Australia and New Zealand are deeply agitated over the American-Japanese reports.

Canada and England are most strongly concerned over the possibility of extending the California land ownership measure to bar all aliens from owning land in that state. England is interested chiefly in the "preservation" of alien property rights. Canada would oppose such action as argument for the abrogation of the Anglo-Japanese treaty.

Australia and New Zealand are watching keenly for developments along the line of extending the Philippines for Japanese colonization. If America consents to allow the Japanese in the Philippines and allows California to bar all aliens from land ownership, it is a blow to the Japanese. It is declared Australia and New Zealand will unite with other British dominions in refusing to approve renewal of the Anglo-Japanese treaty of alliance by the mother country.

LONG TERM IN PRISON TO BE ROBBER'S FATE

Declaring that he would sentence Milton Clark from one year to ten years in San Quentin for robbing the Hotel Whitecourt in Berkeley March 2, 1918, unless some very strong evidence in favor of the prisoner is produced, Superior Judge Compton today recommended that Clark be denied probation.

Clark, who has been in the city for years in San Quentin for robbing the Hotel Whitecourt in Berkeley March 2, 1918, unless some very strong evidence in favor of the prisoner is produced, Superior Judge Compton today recommended that Clark be denied probation.

On the first night after he had been promoted from day clerk to night clerk and had been left alone in the office, Clark robbed the hotel safe of valuables for which the hotel management had to pay guests a total of $170.

That Clark flouted the law and courts of justice by fleeing to Minneapolis while he was still out on bond, that he was arrested there May 1, 1920, and taken to the city sent to this city is Compton's statement. Compton charges that Clark passed bad checks in many cities and that in Omaha he even used a printing plant to produce bogus checks.

Clark came up this afternoon for sentence by Judge Quinn.

Do You Wear Artificial Teeth?

If so it will pay you to investigate this invention of Dr. Schafhirt's. It has stood the test of years in Oakland and made good. Here are the advantages:

Does not run over the entire roof of the mouth; has three suction instead of one; improves speech and takes cool to the mouth. This plate prevents a flat hard mouth to fit in years to come, such as you will have with a cheap inferior old style plate. Look to your future. Don't pick the cheapest plate you can find. It doesn't pay. It is not cheap or expensive. All kinds of plates made, but nothing less than $20.00. You will wear my teeth for years and years. You will use if you have any teeth of your own or not.

PARADISE VALLEY TO BE IRRIGATED

PHOENIX, Ariz., Dec. 29.—Arizona is about to reclaim another big desert valley. Eighty-five thousand acres of the Paradise Valley are to be brought under irrigation by means of a reclamation project costing approximately $15,000,000.

Announcement by George D. Christy, Phoenix, council for the Paradise Verde irrigation district, of the association of landholders is known, that the financing of the project has been arranged in complete detail, has been followed by preliminary engineering work on the project and dam sites. A new York banking house has set aside the contract in which it is to receive bonds of the irrigation district and also is to be the preferred purchaser of electric power developed by the project.

The Paradise Valley parallels the Salt River valley, in which Phoenix is located. The Paradise country is north of the Salt River section, and is separated from it by the Phoenix range of mountains.

Several hydroelectric power plants planned to develop 50,000 horsepower are to be constructed. All canals and ditches are to be of concrete construction in order to minimize loss of water in transit from the reservoirs from the lands to be served, Christy said.

Parents Protest Against Raising Funds in Schools

BERKELEY, Dec. 29.—Declaring that the sympathies of children were being played upon to such an extent that continued appeals for funds are being made to parents, five Berkeley residents yesterday voiced protests to the Berkeley board of education against the appearance of charity and relief workers in class rooms of the city.

That the time of teachers has been consumed in advancing appeals for funds and that hours which should be devoted to education are given to other causes formed the basis of the protest. A letter written by C. H. Smith, 1010 Broadway, and signed by the parents of the children of the particular attention to the appearance of Dr. Lincoln Wirt, Near East relief worker, at Berkeley high school shortly before the close of school for the year.

Others who joined in the protest were John D. Galloway, well known engineer and former army officer, Charles Galloway, a well known Berkeley capitalist, Professor Charles Lorch of the University of California, and A. H. Halloran, 2721 Forest avenue.

It was thought there was a rule in the school department that there should be no solicitation of funds, declared Director Ida M. Biochman. "I feel strongly as these parents do and I would like to know why a ruling adopted by the board is not enforced."

"There is such a rule," added Miss Nellie Crowl, secretary of the board. The enforcement is in the hands of the superintendent.

That permission was given to Dr. Wirt to speak at the high school with the understanding that he made no appeal for funds was the statement of Superintendent H. B. Wilson.

"This is a highly regrettable incident," declared Wilson. "In a letter written to the board, the speaker touched only upon certain phases of relief activity. He was to make no appeal for funds he promised."

SPEAKER FORGOT

"At the time of his talk, however, he evidently forgot his

OTHER SCHOOLS, TOO

"Similar affairs have occurred in the Emerson school and the Willard school and no doubt in others. I am familiar with the ones mentioned and my children have attended there. Aside from any question of the particular charity being a meritorious one—and very few of the charities investigated by the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce have been found as meritorious—it manifestly is not a proper activity for an educational institution to allow affluent speakers to work on the feelings of impressionable youth and children in order to extract money out of their parents' pockets."

Prof. Derleth in his letter declared that the practice of soliciting funds in the schools was a discrimination against the parents who do not contribute.

Connecting on the matter Smith said that use of machinery provided by the citizens of Berkeley is for the education of their children and when the school is used for a purpose so close to a detection of duty on the board and misappropriation of the payment for teachers' time and apparatus.

LOOKS LIKE HARD WINTER, IS WORD OF FRA JEROME

SANTA CLARA UNIVERSITY, Dec. 22.—The Rev. Jerome S. Ricard, S. J., director of the meteorological laboratory here, yesterday issued his prediction for January weather, as follows:

January 1.—Will indicate the first storm of the new year and let it rain freely along the coast until about January 3.

January 4.—Both a pressure rise and fall will occur at the same time, each striving for the mastery. Good rains expected, with strong winds.

January 7.—Same prediction as on January 4, but with far less energy.

January 8.—New storm to drive in with a break on the 10th. One may naturally suppose that means "one fair between two fairs." Our original draft singles out those two dates for strenuous weather.

January 12, 13, 14.—High pressures will fall on land and sea, make fine weather and pleasant nights under blankets.

January 17.—High and low barometers to start simultaneously and divide up the coast—one part wet, the other dry territory.

January 18, 19, 21.—High pressures once more over both the north and south coast; fine days and cold nights; frosts, black and white.

January 22.—New storm arriving from north, to be ousted on the 23d by a barometric rise.

January 25, 26, 27.—Bad storm rushing over British Columbia and heading for the south, as far as San Diego. Some relief vouchsafed on the 24th and 25th by a fall of cold air from on high and final disappearance of distressful weather by another barometric rise on the 26th.

February 1.—Will resemble January 1.

Alameda Boy Scouts To Hold Festival

ALAMEDA, Dec. 22.—Tonight the Boy Scouts of Alameda will hold their big Christmas festival. The festival will take place in the Scout club rooms, 1409 Park street. A big tree, the gift of E. K. Taylor, has been erected and gaily decorated. Every Scout present will receive a gift as well as candy, fruit and other good things to eat.

The big assembly hall has been made into a fair reproduction of a forest, the boys having spent several days collecting Christmas trees and fir branches from all parts of Alameda for the purpose of decorating it. Several boxes of apples and oranges were given the Scouts by the Park street merchants and these will be distributed by Santa Claus.

The Scout Christmas festival, idea originated with E. H. Levy, deputy Scout commissioner in Alameda. The decorations and plans have all been carried out under his direction. Following the distribution of gifts the boys will indulge in games and songs. A program of original acts has been arranged by Scoutmaster Lewis F.

One year ago the Parker-Goddard Secretarial School opened in Oakland, and began its work of preparing Eastern young men and women for the important position of private secretary. Under the guidance of Miss Isabel Parker and Mrs. Adelaide Goddard, whose names the school bears, it has grown to one of the foremost schools of its kind in the Bay Cities.

By LOUISE BRYANT
Special Correspondent International News Service

MOSCOW, via wireless to Berlin, Dec. 22.—Nikolai Lénine, in a two-hour speech before the all-Russian Soviet Congress today, outlined a great program of reconstruction and presented strong arguments in favor of his policy of granting concessions to foreign capitalists. Lénine said that $1,000,000,000 would be spent in the next ten years for the erection of a gigantic system of electric power throughout all Russia.

The present session of the all-Russian Soviet Congress, which opened last Wednesday, is considered the most important gathering of its kind since the birth of the Soviet Republic, not only because all of Russia is represented, but also because it is now in a position for the first time in three years to look forward to a period of peace and economic reconstruction.

2400 IN ASSEMBLY
The Soviet republics of Armenia and Azerbaijan are represented. The assembly is composed of working men, all plainly dressed and the delegates number 2400.

The first address was made by Joseph Stalin, Terabakian, delegate from Armenia.

Bela Kun, former Communist dictator of Hungary, who is now connected with the Moscow Government, reported on conditions in Crimea. He has just returned from Crimea where he had been during the heavy fighting between the Reds and General Wrangel's army.

The delegate from Azerbaijan, speaking on conditions in that newly created country.

Leon Trotsky, people's commissar for war, got an ovation that lasted for some minutes. This demonstration repeated when Lénine appeared. Lénine advanced many suggestions for the rehabilitation of the country. While speaking of concessions to foreign capitalists, Lénine said that $1,000,000,000 would be spent in the next ten years for the erection of a gigantic system of electric power throughout all Russia.

Leon Trotsky, people's commissar for war, got an ovation that lasted for some minutes. This demonstration repeated when Lénine appeared. Lénine advanced many suggestions for the rehabilitation of the country. While speaking of concessions to foreign capitalists, Lénine said that $1,000,000,000 would be spent in the next ten years for the erection of a gigantic system of electric power throughout all Russia.

The present session of the all-Russian Soviet Congress, which opened last Wednesday, is considered the most important gathering of its kind since the birth of the Soviet Republic, not only because all of Russia is represented, but also because it is now in a position for the first time in three years to look forward to a period of peace and economic reconstruction.

2400 IN ASSEMBLY
The Soviet republics of Armenia and Azerbaijan are represented. The assembly is composed of working men, all plainly dressed and the delegates number 2400.

The first address was made by Joseph Stalin, Terabakian, delegate from Armenia.

Bela Kun, former Communist dictator of Hungary, who is now connected with the Moscow Government, reported on conditions in Crimea. He has just returned from Crimea where he had been during the heavy fighting between the Reds and General Wrangel's army.

U. S. LAW HALTS CUPID'S SCHEME

When 19-year-old Eva Prinz left her home in Russia to answer the call of love and to join her fiancé, Lloyd D. Jacot, in San Francisco, she became enmeshed in red tape which has been unwound only to return her to her native land. Jacot is desolate over the decree of the authorities in Washington, D. C., and declares that he will not go to Russia, make her his wife and return to California with her American citizen. Mrs. Mary O'Neil of San Francisco, mother of Jacot, too, is unconvinced by the government's plan to separate the lovers. She has urged her family home to secure bonds for the girl.

"I want her for my son's wife," she declares.

In the meantime Miss Prinz is in Seattle awaiting deportation. A stowaway, she was taken from the steamer Cross Keys in the northern port early in November. Charged with violation of the passport law she has been held by the immigration authorities, while every effort has been put forth to gain her entry into the United States. Special boards have considered her case and finally appealed to Washington for decision.

Jacot is pursuing the U. S. Army transport Locan. In July he was taken to Vladivostok with a passport for $17,000.00 and a letter from the Prinz home. The romance blossomed. When he was returned home Miss Prinz became impatient to join her lover and with a girl named Anna, she fled to Seattle. Her deportation has been ordered.

LOOK UP, GO FORWARD!

Among the many beautiful old French legends there is one about a forest in which, when spring came, every tree waited for every other tree to begin. Spring passed into summer, and summer again into winter, and again spring came, but all the trees remained black and leafless. Finally the forest withered and died.

There is a valuable lesson in that legend. How many of us are waiting for some other person to start a constructive, forward looking program in business, industry, civic improvement, communal welfare? During the last six months we have, as a nation, been going down the slope from the peak of wartime prosperity. There has been no collapse, no general catastrophe, although we have been on the edge of a crisis.

Many persons waited for the necessary beginning of deflation of prices and credits and there was a lot of delay in starting the process of readjustment. But finally the downward journey had to start and we have been going down hill ever since. Naturally there has resulted a disposition on the part of a large element in all lines of activities to wait until they cannot be postponed about seeing the end. There has been postponement of construction, cancellation of contracts, curtailment all along the line, in accordance with a wait-and-see policy.

This was well up to a certain extent. But we cannot stand still indefinitely and wait until new motive power is developed, unaided out of simple inertia. Another year is drawing to a close; the regime of a political administration which has afflicted the country with distrust and discontent is nearing its end. There is much to be done in reconstruction and readjustment that has been delayed for over two years. Is every person and every other line of business going to wait until every other person and every other line of business starts something? If so, when may the withering process be expected to set in?

We do not believe the period of waiting will be long. One of the great meat packers of Chicago, whose prediction on the downward course of prices during the last six months has been verified by the record, said two days ago that a revival in business activities was to be expected very soon. He believes that manufacturers and merchants will immediately complete their process of taking losses, produce and purchase a new stock of wares and start a new period in their business life. He expects the people, who have been curtailment purchases for several months in anticipation of still further declines, to begin again to serve their necessities and comforts. When consumption revives the wheels of the production mills will again turn. There will be more employment all along the line from the farm to the sale counter in the retail store.

The new year will not be very old, in sound business opinion, until the people of the United States are looking forward with confidence and certainty, when the distressing experiences of the past will be forgotten and minds will be set on new creative achievements. This is the condition to be desired, at least. And if we do not initiate the idle forest, if we do not sit and wither waiting for some other person to start something, this condition will follow.

PARK ATTACK ABANDONED.

The Oakland Board of Education has finally decided to sell the small parcels of land it holds near Independence Square and to purchase elsewhere a site for the proposed new high school in East Oakland. This means that the board has abandoned its plan to develop a part of the public park known as Independence Square as a school building site.

This is well done. The only unpleasant thing about it is the memory that the school board once considered invading this much-needed public park in the eastern section of the city. That will pass away happily unless the scheme to grab the park is revived. In the meantime the public will be pleased at the broadening of the civic conscience of the school board, as exhibited in its belated recognition of the integrity of public parks.

Very little difficulty should now be experienced by the board in obtaining a suitable site elsewhere in East Oakland. It should proceed quickly and start the construction of the new school building as soon as practicable. If there are any avaricious property-owners or land agents who are so devoid of a sense of public duty as to want to hold up the board for an exorbitant price for a school site the board should resort to condemnation proceedings and have a fair value decreed.

ECONOMY IS NECESSARY.

THE TRIBUNE's despatch from its special correspondent at Sacramento yesterday described the purpose of an economy measure to be introduced in the legislature as soon as that body convenes next week. Apparently inspired by the recommendations of the Boynton efficiency commission, which Governor Stephens appointed when he was a candidate and then forgot after the election, it seeks the consolidation of a dozen boards and commissions in one executive body.

This is one measure that has been designed obviously in a sincere spirit to bring about a reduction in governmental expenditures and greater efficiency in the organs of government supported out of the public revenue. There will be others, many others, it is to be hoped. Every economy measure will be stoutly fought. That must be anticipated and the fortune of the advocates of economy and good government will not be known until the legislature is adjourned and it is seen how many measures the governor will "forget" to sign.

But the fight against such measures must not be permitted to succeed. The public well knows who will be behind the fight. There will be the job-holders—the members of the several boards, their large and expensive staffs of employees, the attorneys for the boards who get handsome salaries while they work elsewhere, the politicians who got the job-holders their places, and the members of the legislature who do not yet know that it is better politics to play square with the public than to serve their political friends.

Unless the present session of the legislature reduces expenditures and provides for a more efficient administration of the government it will have failed utterly to perform its highest duty. Expenses now amount to $60,000,000 per biennial period. Projects which will be presented to the legislature would if approved without any changes in the existing system increase this burden by $20,000,000. That cannot be permitted without increasing the present burden of taxation and the State is now being taxed to death.

The only thing to do is to eliminate some of the existing expenses and prevent the assumption of additional expenses. Governor Stephens two years ago made a pledge to the people of California that he would reduce government expenses and bring about a more efficient administration. That pledge is not forgotten. He made the excuse two years ago that he did not have time in the first session of a legislature during his term of office to carry out his program. That excuse is no longer acceptable.

Now is the time to begin the economy program and the governor can get into the work at once. He can inform the members of the legislature what projects he will approve and what he will not. He can insist upon his promises being fulfilled. He can expose every sinister political interest that reaches to the State capital to protect the superfluous boards and commissions and the political supermen on the State payroll. This California expects of him. The situation is serious.

The report from Washington that Japan has withdrawn her opposition to the California land law is probably premature, although the Japanese officials may have reached the decision that it will be more graceful to let the issue rest than to find themselves facing irreparable defeat. It may be that an offer not to protest the California law has been made in the hope of gaining a point elsewhere in the negotiations concerning the whole subject of Japanese immigration. But if this is the case Japan ought to be disappointed again. For it must be the policy of the federal government to prohibit absolutely future Japanese immigration. We must be fair to ourselves and self-respecting in this situation. If any aliens are unfit or unsafe for ownership of land then they are undesirable as residents. We do not desire foreigners to come here merely for the benefit they can render those who are already citizens. When we get around to this viewpoint we will be near the point of importing slaves, again.

OLIVE SCHREINER

She is not going at nearly 60, will remain long as the author of a book written in her late years and accepted from her at 20 on the advice of a friend. Indeed, her equipment as a person and a writer was not quite sufficient to carry her entirely through "The Story of an African Farm." It is an unconventionally planned narrative of the development of two powerful personalities, a boy and a girl, on a wild estate farm probably appealed to the general public chiefly by virtue of its first half. The descriptions of the lonely world, the faithful picture of the economy of the African homestead over which Tante Sarrie the housekeeper reigned, the glimpses of Boers, natives, and retainers like Bonaparte Jenkins, were unusually novel and fresh in color.

At the same time the account of the girl Lyndall's progress from intense and narrow religious convictions to agnosticism and even atheism was eagerly read by the public which a half-dozen years later was so stirred by "Robert Elsmere." There were both originality of conception and beauty of expression in the philosophical passages.

Mrs. Schreiner's most outspoken admirers have been those who later seized upon "Dreams" and pronounced it her greatest work, and who have reprinted separately some of the passages about Lyndall's development as the dream of "The Story of an African Farm." Nevertheless her path to high distinction lay in the exploration of her knowledge of African life in fiction, and that path she could not or did not follow.—New York Evening Post.

NOTES and COMMENT

Interesting story of the Sacramento footpad who returned to a victim's pocketbook on the plea that it contained a picture of his wife, when it really contained $15 in money. However, the incident having been published, honest footpads are put in a way of looking out hereafter for such underhand tactics.

Oklahoma may have some unconventional notions, as to women who confess to the charge of a sin for instance, but they have other ideas that are not to be criticized. A police commissioner of Tulsa advises the general populace to shoot burglars. That also has been considered elsewhere, however, and there was a disposition to do it before the Tulsa advice arrived. The only drawback is coming up advantageously with the burglars.

The big cities of the East are wrestling with the snow problem. Chicago is elated over a new invention, a snow-lifter, which does the work of twelve trucks and sixty men. This region is bereft of such joy by having no such material to lead.

The effort to avoid living up to a contract by the plea that it was entered into in violation of a Federal statute is an instance of preferring to confess a felony rather than to go through with an agreement. It has to do with the sugar conspiracy, and suggests that the party that is doing the confessing is getting a little coming to him.

Illustrating again how difficult it is to lose one who has secured a strange hold on the payroll is the instance of the harness maker of the San Francisco fire department. The department has been motorized and a harness maker is no longer a vital necessity; but it required a decision of the Supreme Court of California to perform the surgical operation that eliminates this employee who had status in other times.

Secretary Houston has submitted figures that place the total that will be necessary if the soldiers' bounty plan is carried out at $2,300,000,000. But makes no recommendation. It is a nut for the incoming administration to crack, and there is a scarce concealed satisfaction among the outsiders that it is a particularly hard one.

According to some of the special correspondents President-elect Harding is being worried over the formation of his cabinet by wire pullers. The general understanding is wrong if this is so. It has been conceded that Senator Harding's readiness to listen to suggestions does not preclude his ability to decide for himself finally.

We must conclude that some things are queer in other places. In Ardmore, for instance, they have admitted to bail a woman who confessed to having constructed a machine to crack, and the leading citizens made a fetish act of it by going on her bond.

The celebration of the anniversary of Jose Rizal's death may prompt the query, Who was Rizal? He was the most famous martyr of the Spanish regime in the Philippines—the Robert Emmet of the South Seas. But why the celebration at the Technical High School in Oakland is not clear.

The Stockton Record says something that sounds familiar to editors: "Women about the bay represented in the Housewives' League are asking that the real estate, electric and water meters shall be placed under the jurisdiction of the State sealer of weights and measures, not necessarily for publication but as a guarantee of good faith."

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

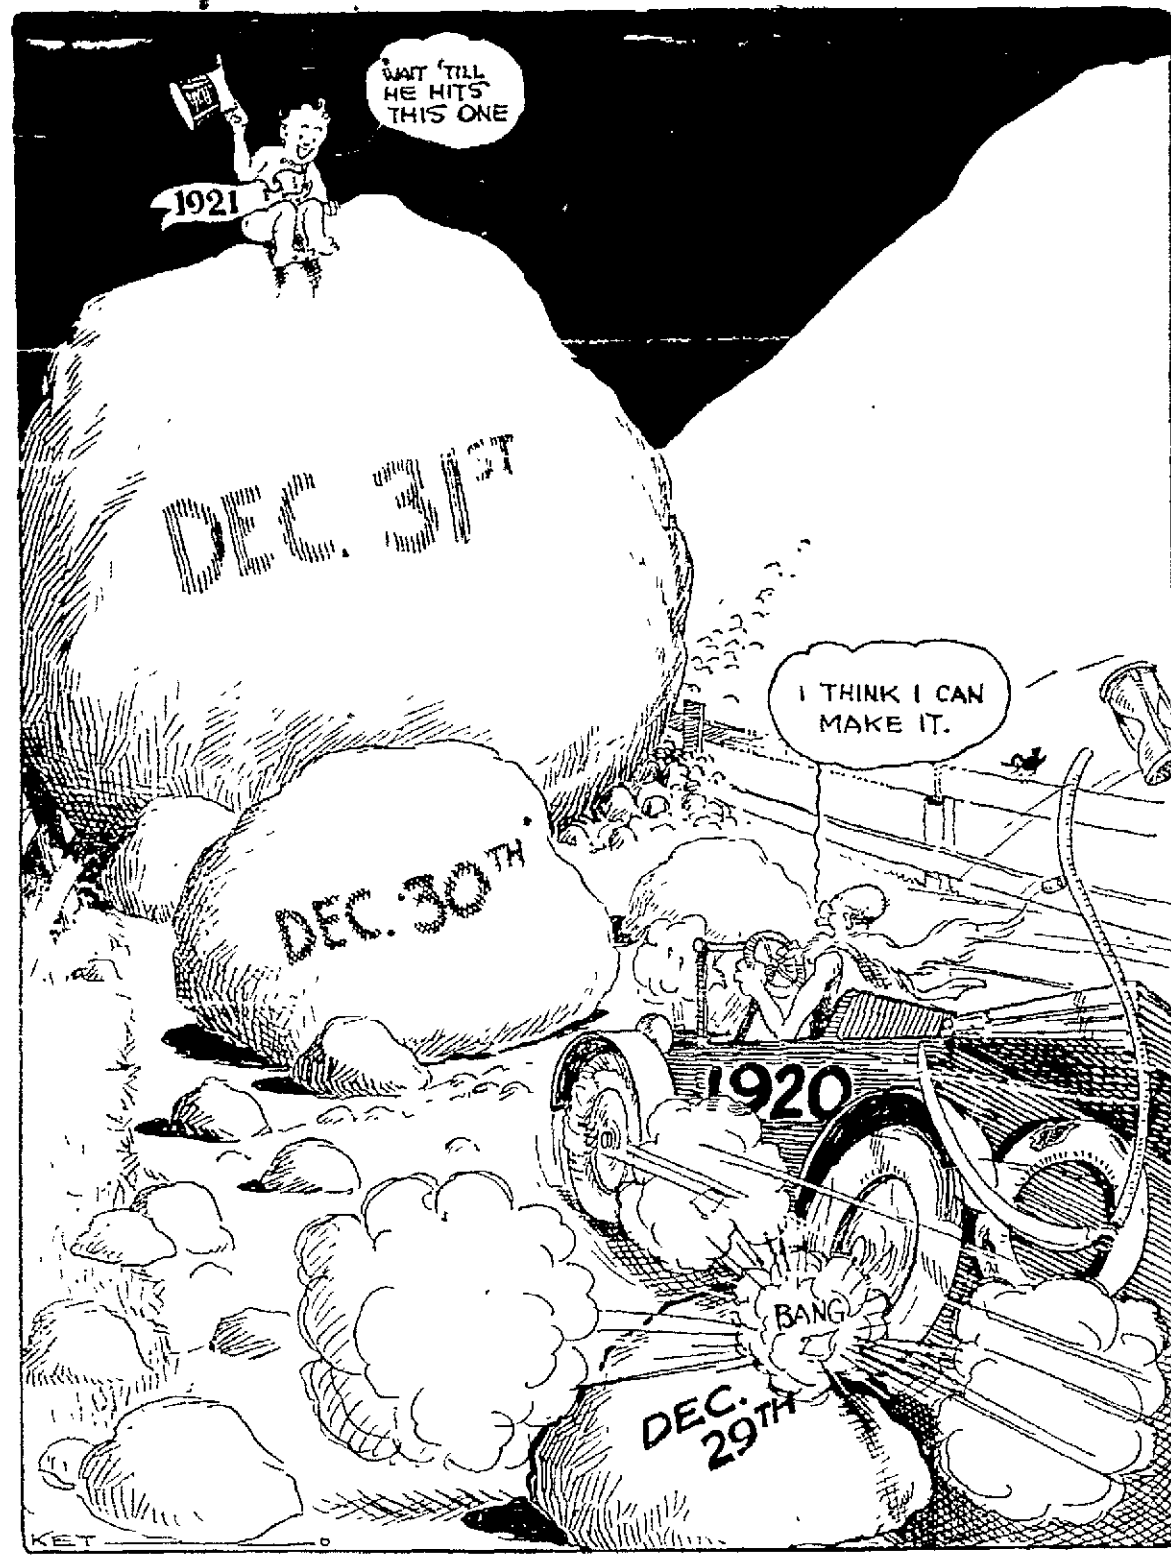

Four distinguished young Chinese arrived recently at San Francisco on the way to the eastern states where they will distribute themselves as students among certain universities. When they announce themselves as the sons of the former president Yuan Shih K'ai, they must not be surprised if the name of their dad is promptly annexed for use as a college yell.—Bakersfield Californian.

Congress has decided to give encouragement to California growers of wine grapes and to find new products into which the grapes can be manufactured. But maybe after it reads its Literary Digest with Bailey Millard's story taken from Sunset about the "Paradoxes of Prohibition" and the price vineyarders have been getting this year for grapes, congress will decide to give a thumbs-up to the "Bakersfield Californian."

On his second attempt to sail from Seattle to Boston, Mass., in a 34-foot "ship," the St. Francis, Captain Thomas Drake put into this port Sunday morning. It had taken him thirty-four days to sail from Seattle. According to Captain Drake he was eleven days at sea without lighting and/or a passing vessel. San Nicolas Island was the first sighted. Captain Drake carries provisions and wood and water on board his craft to last him for six weeks. In 1915 Captain Drake put into this port with his small craft and later landed in Mexico, where the vessel was seized by the rebels.—Catalina Islander.

San Leandro is to regulate its public dances by ordinance. This regulation was urged upon the authorities to keep out an outside element that frequented dances here to cause trouble. Upon the adoption of this ordinance it will be necessary for the dancing to carry on public dances in San Leandro to procure permits. Twilight dancing will be deemed when this ordinance is in effect, and the merry waltzers will have to enjoy their dancing while the ball room is brilliantly illuminated.—San Leandro Reporter.

The Editor of THE TRIBUNE declines responsibility for opinions and statements expressed in his columns. Best contributions on current topics of general interest are welcome. They will not, as a rule, be published unless accompanied by the name of the writer, which, if desired, will be withheld from publication.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TRIBUNE:

On behalf of every citizen of Oakland,

I take this opportunity also to make acknowledgment to Mrs. W. H. H. Hamilton, Harry L. Boyle, Charles H. Truman and Ralph Knapp for their able and stirring defense of the parks in their addresses before the recent mass-meeting in Independence Square, held for the purpose of protesting against the use of that or any other park for school purposes. In this movement to safeguard the few recreation spots in the city, thanks are due to Dr. J. Loran Pease for his lone leadership at the meetings of the Board of Education, to Walter D. Cole of the Chamber of Commerce, to the members of the Park Board, to those City Commissioners who have gone on record as opposed to the school board plan, and to City Attorney Hagan for his stand on the legal aspects of the case.

MRS. RAY C. BROWN

1748 18th Avenue,
Oakland, December 23.

To the Editor of THE TRIBUNE:—Anent the editorial in THE TRIBUNE of December 22, protesting against the use of Independence Square as a school site, my position is such that I cannot call upon you and give you more facts. As near as I can remember it was between eight and nine years ago that an attempt was made to put a school building on the site. At that time, the late Judge John W. Hagan, who often were on Broadway between Tenth and Eleventh streets, protested against it and had either the original deed of the property to the city or a certified copy. This paper must be either in his papers or filed away in the Superior Court records, as he at that time, protested the erection of the building.

Quite a number of his friends read that deed and specified that no building should be erected upon that square under penalty of the law reverting to the heirs of the donors. There is no question as to that statement being in the deed. His executors may find the paper if he did not have to file it in the courts. ONE WHO SAW THE DEED.

A STREET PROJECT.

To the Editor of THE TRIBUNE:

At present there is a move to make East Eighth street a boulevard at an immense cost to the property owners for several blocks on each side of the street and for miles in length. There are many other and better streets that can be used to relieve the congestion on East Twelfth street—if there is any congestion which, to me, is doubtful, and I trust, 1925 days in the year. If the Twelfth street dam is too narrow this can easily be remedied. For instance: Instead of certain of the street cars turning into Twelfth street at Oak why not continue the street car line through the block between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets and swing into Twelfth street at below Fallon. Then widen the dam road sixty feet by cutting thirty feet off the Auditorium park and extending the road thirty feet toward the lake. Cause the street car company to purchase the property at First avenue and Twelfth street, straighten its lines from Fourteenth street and First avenue, moving its lines from the center of the street to one side so that there would be room for four lines of vehicular traffic. This would do away with the street cars coming into First avenue, and continually blocking traffic at Twelfth, and instead of the vehicular traffic having to cross the street car rails a straight run down over the dam could be made where they can either switch into Eleventh street at Fallon, continue along Twelfth, or run down Oak to Fourteenth.

Again, To relieve the alleged congestion on East Twelfth why not turn East Eleventh street into some use instead of as at present—beginning virtually nowhere and ending nowhere?

But whatever is done, why should a portion of the city be assessed for a street which the City Council alleges will benefit the entire city and surrounding cities? Although I do not own an inch of property in the district to be assessed, yet I consider it an imposition to make a few pay for the benefit of hundreds of thousands. If, as the city engineer maintains, the cutting of East Eighth street through to where will benefit everyone, then let everyone pay his share. I am willing.

FAIR PLAY.

EYES OF THE CITIZENRY.

If editors could only see that they are the eyes of the citizenry, as well as the mentors, the gossip, and the grinders of moving picture cameras, they would do more good, achieve greater fame and make more profit.

In a popular government it is all important that some one shall play sentinel, watch the sleeping tents where lie the well meaning but inactive sleepers, and prevent the invasion of corruptionists and revolutionists. Eternal vigilance must be expected from the man who is busy with selling his needles and pins. And if we are to maintain our liberty, some one must be on guard, not to chatter about duty in editorials, but to go out, discover offenses against the law, and bring the offenders to justice.—Melville E. Stone in Collier's Weekly.

$87,000,000 TO BE ASKED; STATE FACES BIG DEBT

Finance Question to Tower Over All Others at Com- ing Legislature

By AD B. SCHUSTER.
TRIBUNE BUREAU, SACRA-MENTO, Dec. 29.—The budget for the coming session of the legislature will be, in round numbers, $87,000,000.

This statement, given out by one of the members of the board, is subject to a few minor changes and corrections but represents the estimate of the board members and will not see any material alterations. The board was in session with Controller John E. Chambers today and has its work well in hand.

When it is brought to mind that the budget for the last biennial was $50,000,000, that the voters of the state based on the expenditure of $18,212,265, and that legislators from every section of California will be here next week with bills asking for appropriations it is easy to see why it is that the finance question is scheduled to be the most important and the most persistent of the coming session.

BIG DEFICIT IS SEEN

As has been said, after the revenues are deducted the problem of raising some twenty or thirty millions of dollars will be the one big cause of argument. That deficit is expected to be reinforced by the directed at savings and to furnish the ammunition for the opponents of all appropriation measures. Dollars and cents will be counted to the last at every session and the spectre of ad valorem and special taxes will be paraded on every possible occasion.

Along this line, it is known that the Los Angeles delegation, placed to economy where it doesn't pertain, will ask for something more than a million for an irrigation scheme and that the Northern counties will introduce a water bill of their own. In the latter case all that will be asked is an appropriation for a survey as to the feasibility of the so-called Marshall plan, or something similar, which in the face of its modest beginning and promise of benefits to be reaped, is considered to have a chance of passing. This plan, which contemplates a system of canals and reservoirs and would seek to reclaim millions of acres of arid and desert land as well as to conserve the water at flood period for the time of need, has been put before the civic organizations in most of the cities and towns of the State and has a strong backing. The California State Irrigation Association is one of those behind it.

24 HOUR SCHOOL IDEA

Frederic C. Nelles, superintendent of the Whittier State school, will ask for an appropriation to put into effect the "twenty-four hour school idea," under which the school teacher becomes responsible for the conditions under which the pupils live.
He also wants a law to provide institutions for youthful offenders who should have something more rigid than reform school discipline and yet should not be sent to the penitentiary. He believes that such places, to provide work for the inmates and also hours and advantages for study, could be combined with the present industrial schools.
School men, water men, criminologists, university regents, heads of various institutions, and heads of practically every state department are ready to ask for appropriations.
Some have plans, in one hand, which promise a saving but, in the other,
they have programs which will more than use the money to be saved.

it may be said that Stern actually did

Oakland C. of C. Joins in Plea For New 14th Street Depot

The Oakland Chamber of Commerce today joined the general protest against Southern Pacific conditions at Fourteenth and Franklin streets, not only as regards the sort of depot the company maintains there, but also in and suitable to this section of the city.

Fourth.—That the Railroad Commission determine, if within its jurisdiction, a division of that portion of said block now owned by the Southern Pacific Company which may be needed as operating property and that portion which respect to the company's use of the Franklin street crossing for switching purposes. Phrasing its protest in resolutions forwarded today to the State Railroad Commission, the Chamber of Commerce says:

Resolved, That the Railroad Commission of the State of California be, and the same is hereby appealed to, to use its jurisdiction is not needed as operating property, and compel either a sale of the same or that the same be properly assessed for city, county and state purposes.

FRANCHISE VIOLATED

Fifth.—That we earnestly protest against the continued violation by the Southern Pacific Company of the terms of its franchise on Franklin street, and we respectfully urge the Railroad Commission of the State of California to prevent the running of three large interurban cars on this street under a franchise which permits the operating of only two street cars at a time.

This appeal is made to the Railroad Commission of the State of California, feeling that the Southern Pacific Company will not do anything to improve the condition of its property at Fourteenth and Franklin streets, but will continue to maintain the dilapidated and unsightly shacks now on said property just as long as they will stand up and not fall down of their own accord. The interest of the city of Oakland and of its taxpayers

as well as the accommodation of the traveling public make this appeal all the more emphatic and
with the hope that the Railroad Commission of the State of California can relieve the pitiful condition now presented in this section of our city.

TRAFFIC BLOCKED

Second.—To compel the Southern Pacific Company to run its tracks diagonally through the block it now owns and not switch across Franklin street, leaving its cars standing on Franklin street many times during the day and blocking the traffic on that street.

Third.—That all the old buildings and shacks now on said property be eliminated and either a suitable building be placed on the block or a depot adequate to accommodate the travel at this point

city just as long as they will stand up and not fall down of their own
accord. The interest of the city
of Oakland and of its taxpayers
as well as the accommodation of
the traveling public make this appeal all the more emphatic and
with the hope that the Railroad Commission of the State of California can relieve the pitiful condition now presented in this section of our city.

If you see it in THE TRIBUNE tell them so.

well prepared—as they used to say in

GIRL CAN'T TELL FIANCE FROM HIS DOUBLE; COMPLICATIONS WHEN CROOK IMPERSONATES MILLIONAIRE

Breezy Wally Reid in gripping double role, fights himself to a finish in "Always Audacious." Eighteen Oakland Kiddies present classic "Miniature Ziegfeld Follies" at the Kinema all this week.

"Always audacious" is Pen Ames
Williams' famous Saturday Evening Post story, "Toujours de l'audace," in which Wally Reid the millionaire battles with Wally Reid the crook to establish his own identity in a thrilling manner. The double exposures are amazing, especially the scene in which the crook comes to blows with the man whose name and fiancée he has stolen.

White is the new sales manager of Calkins-Golden Company. On the job one short year he has boosted sales nearly sixty per cent.
Naturally he stands high with his company.

At a recent Board of Directors meeting,
J. L. Calkins, president of the company, asked the new sales manager to tell the Directors the secret of his phenomenal success.

"Always reaching out for new customers and having my salesmen properly equipped to register favorable first impressions," came the prompt reply. "When I first took charge I found that ninety-nine per cent of the sales force's efforts were directed toward securing orders from old customers—the men were order takers, not salesmen. Of course I changed that at once, but I soon found a new and much harder problem to solve. The men were not getting in to see the right people. There was something wrong with that all-important
'first impression'."

"I called the men into my office and had them make a solicitation to me just as they would to a prospect, and then the secret came out. Man after man presented a card to me that was a disgrace to our house. No wonder the men did not 'register.'"

"My next step was to call in a representative of H. S. Crocker Company. To him I entrusted the task of designing a suitable card
—one fairly representing us."

"The rest of the story is best told by the report of sales. The men were quick to realize the value of their new 'equipment.' It gave them renewed confidence. New accounts became more and more frequent and orders showed a constant increase."

White's problem is not unusual. Many firms face the same situation although they do not always realize it. Perhaps your salesmen need better equipment. Ask today to be shown the H. S. Crocker Company sample collection of business cards. It will be worth your while.

Driver Is O. K. If Rear Wheel Hits, Is Claim

If a man is struck by the rear wheel of an automobile truck and seriously injured, is the driver responsible and should the owner of the machine be held for damages?
This is one of the questions at issue in the $50,000 damage suit of Orison Van Horn against the Standard Oil Company on trial before Superior Judge Joseph S. Ko-ford.

Van Horn, who has a broken leg and was otherwise injured, testified that he was standing on San Pablo avenue near the city hall waiting for a street car when he was run over by a truck driven by Charles B. Holler.

The Standard Oil company claims that Van Horn alighted from a street car and hurried along the street between the car and the truck to catch a car in front, slipping and falling underneath the wheel of the truck. Holler testified that he did not know an accident had happened until after he had passed the spot in question.

Wife Divorced From Judge's Schoolmate

Superior Judge Koford today granted a divorce to the wife of a man he had known in boyhood, but had not seen for many years. Mrs.
Pearl V. Stipp was given the decree from James H. Stipp on the ground of desertion. She testified that her husband left her November 22, 1919, saying he was going north, and then to parts unknown and that he had enough to do to support himself and enough responsibilities of his own without caring for a family.

They were married in Vacaville August 8, 1913, and have one boy, aged six and named for his father. Mrs.
Stipp refused to ask for alimony, saying it would cost her more to get it than it would be worth.

Judge Koford spent his boyhood in Vacaville. He said he knew "Jimmie" Stipp at school, but denied that they ever were cronies.

On the question as to whether Hamilton Lavalliere, former deputy county auditor and confessed em- bezzler of several thousand dollars from Alameda county's tax funds, makes restitution for the $5000 shown by experts to have been taken by him depends the recommendation, it is reported, of Probation Officer Leonard D. Compton as to granting him probation.

rest declared his pecuniaries, which had extended over a period of more than two years, would not amount to more than $800. When accounts were certified the shortage attributable to him was $5100 he insisted he did

Municipal Ambulance Will Supplant Old Police Wagon

For the first time in its history, Oakland is going to have a municipal ambulance.
Since the city was first established the police patrols have been equipped for ambulance work and have been used almost as much in that way as any other. Chief of Police Lynch, however, has called in the old police patrol wagon long attached to the Melrose station, and sent it to the Corporation yard for a thorough overhaul. The old drab paint and the "Police Department" sign will be removed. The machine will be renovated, sterilized and painted a light color, and the outside sign will be "Ambulance" or "Department of Public Health" or something like that. The exterior of the machine will be gray or white, and it is planned to keep it at the central sta-

Melrose station will receive one of the new gray patrol wagons which recently arrived for the police department.

BEARS AND BUCKEYES LEAVE TOWN TO STAGE PRACTICES

MAJOR LEAGUE SCOUTS ARE WATCHING YOUNG BALL PLAYERS IN THE VARIOUS TRIBUNE LEAGUES

SECRET STUFF MAKES A BIG HIT WITH THE COACHES AND PLAYERS

Customers Unable to Get a Line on the Rival Elevens; Both Said to be Trying New Tricks

By DOUG. MONTELL. PASADENA, Dec. 29.—As the day of the Ohio State-California football game approaches the coaches of the two teams are becoming more and more secret in their workouts. Yesterday both teams were scheduled to be put through a hard day's work, but just what was done and where it came off is a mystery. Early in the morning Coach Andy Smith tumbled his Bruins out of bed and bundled into waiting machines along with their football togs. It was learned at noon when the squad returned for lunch that they had been pastimating at one of the nearby golf clubs going through secret stuff undisturbed. Plans for the afternoon included another stiff workout for California when and where the Bears would work out being known only to Andy, and newspapermen were politely requested to stay at home.

Looks as though Tournament Park has been abandoned by California up to the day of the game, but Ohio may continue to work there. The California inter cannot be blamed for this stand and his change of scenery. Pasadena will be California's only hope for a change of scene. The two previous workouts the Bears have been unable to concentrate and as a result no one has been able to get any information out of them. They left Berkeley. Lack of condition and overconfidence are feared by the coaches. The coaches of California, and Coach Smith is plainly worried while the Bruins are not over-confident. They have failed to take up work as a team and must be drilled hard for the remaining days to beat the Ohio men, who are displaying better team work. Dr. Wilce likewise mentioned up his man today and barred the gates to all spectators at the Buckeyes' workout.

Scouts from both sides have viewed practices of the rival team and it is circulated freely that both coaches have been informed of every movement of the enemy since arrival here. Andy Smith admitted that some people have approached him for a tip-off all secret plays of Ohio, but he has not solicited such aid and believes that if the team is to win on the football it knows it does not need it.

Trick Plays Being Used in Practice. Dr. Wilce feels the same way and neither coach believes the other to be spying. Trick plays and new formations are being worked by both teams in an effort to have slight edge on entering the contest. As the day of the game nears the teams appear more and more evenly matched, and the outcome may hinge on any advantage a team may get by the end of the game. Both teams have worked daily on defense. Ohio trying to develop defense against California's system of quick kick plays. Both teams have been unable to beat the other in the line of scrimmage. With both Morrison and Toomey reported in playing shape by Trainer Bryan, California will have a strong offensive line.

Year's day is warm the contest is expected to be a close one. Ohio State's chance of victory lies in Wilce's forward passing ability. The Bears' chance of victory lies in their line of scrimmage.

During the Christmas vacation many of the prospects of the two teams could be found out on the courts around the Eastbay putting on the old practices for the new year. The tournament of basketball scheduled for the new year. This local T. M. C. A. was especially prominent in the tournament. No official practice was held by any of the high school coaches as they are busy with the winter sports. The tournament of basketball scheduled for the last three weeks on January 3, 1921.

As the sports season now. Fremont is a heavy favorite to win the Oakland Athletic League. The team has a veteran club to enter against their more or less green opponents. Tech and Oakland are the two teams to watch. The team has a veteran club to enter against their more or less green opponents. Tech and Oakland are the two teams to watch.

Swimming races to the line. Light in the last two years at the local high schools. Before the popularity of the sport has been the big item to take into consideration, but the games have taken a fall in popularity. The school is doing its best to keep the sport alive. The school is doing its best to keep the sport alive.

Admitted Will Have Star. Local City track men are particularly joyous over the fact that one of the stars will be back for the next Alameda County Athletic League meet. The meet will be held at the local track. The meet will be held at the local track.

THREE OF DR. WILCE'S OHIO ATHLETES

Walter Powell, the Stanford Coach, Is Great Admirer of California

PASADENA, Dec. 29.—With the seating capacity of Tournament Park increased to 12,000, it is expected that one of the greatest assemblies ever gathered together at a similar event in Soquel, California, will be on hand Saturday to see the inter-collegiate football contest between Ohio State and California.

Couch Wilce of the Buckeyes has only one man in the line of scrimmage who is not a former player. The rest are all former players. The rest are all former players.

TRIBUNE LEAGUER IS OFFERED CONTRACT BY CINCINNATI REDS

Major Club Owner May Want Louie Fonseca to Turn Over to Bill Kenworthy of Seattle

By EDDIE MURPHY. Louie Fonseca, second sacker for the C. I. Boat Tractors of the Oakland Tribune Midwinter league will be playing in the infield of Bill Kenworthy's Seattle club next season unless we have raised a wrong kind of a hunch. Last Sunday afternoon, Kenworthy was out at San Leandro to give Fonseca the ups and down. He saw Louie connect for three hits, one a homer, and play a dandy game around second base. Kenworthy might have gone out to look Fonseca over on the advice of August Hermann, president of the Cincinnati Reds who has promised a pair of infielders to Kenworthy in part payment for Sammy Bohne. If that is what Bill was doing, then he will send a very nice report back to August, as Fonseca certainly made a big hit with Bill.

The Berkeley Country Club has engaged Sam Whiting, well-known professional golfer and club member of Ilkley, Yorkshire, England, as professional for the club's golf course, his engagement to begin next May, at which time he is expected to arrive in Berkeley.

TENNIS

By HENRY L. FARRELL. United Press Staff Correspondent. NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—One of America's sturdiest players is expected to lead the boys' tennis team in the Davis cup, emblematic of world supremacy in tennis, is a close second in the world today.

Will Tilden and William Johnston, American players, are expected to give the cup a ride back to the United States.

When Tilden crossed to Wimbledon last summer and won the British national singles championship, the British were enthusiastic enough to look on him as one of the greatest of all players.

They liked Johnston too, and they were frank in predicting that if the pair were to play together, they would be a formidable team.

John Pesek Flopped by Earl Caddock. DES MOINES, Iowa, Dec. 29.—Earl Caddock, of Walnut, Iowa, former world's heavyweight wrestling champion, won in straight sets from Earl Caddock, a local champion, in a match for the title of Iowa champion.

Freddie Welsh Stops an Unknown Boxer. NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 29.—Freddie Welsh, who retired after losing the world's lightweight championship to Benny Leonard in 1917, returned to the ring last night and scored a technical knockout over an unknown boxer in the fourth round of a 12-round match.

Davis Cup Matches Again Postponed. AUCKLAND, N. Z., Dec. 29.—The Davis cup tennis championship match scheduled for today was again postponed on account of rain. The first round will be played tomorrow.

FANS COULD USE FEW MORE TICKETS FOR BIG FOOTBALL GAME

Ohio Boys Must Have Shown the Fans Something in Their Practice

By BOB SHAND. Hundreds of local football fans are being scared off the Pasadena game because of the lack of tickets. The management of the Tournament of Roses issued a proclamation yesterday stating that 5000 additional seats had been installed on top of the stands and these would be placed on sale, one to a customer, on the day of the game, but it is a long trip to Pasadena with only a chance of getting a ticket.

Down south they say they have returned $100,000 to disappointed customers which would indicate that there will be more than 5000 people in line for the extra seats on the day of the game. Several Oakland fans have secured reservations but they were on the job when the game was first advertised. Those who have made application in the last few days have been informed that the house has been sold out.

University of California students could use another thousand tickets very nicely but they are not obtainable. Graduate Manager Luis Nichols has been in the south for a couple of weeks looking after the interests of California, but even Luis has been unable to make the committee loosen up the ticket situation.

In my opinion, the California fans who are disappointed in the ticket situation are not to be pitied. They are not to be pitied. They are not to be pitied.

Ohio Boys Look Like Footballers. These Ohio boys must have shown something in practice for a lot of California supporters are showing signs of nervousness. When the champions of the Big Ten were on the field, it seemed to the experts that they did not look like football players. They did not look like football players.

California Will Also Watch the Clock. The "watch the clock" rule is a tough one to win. California needs a touchdown to win the game. California needs a touchdown to win the game.

Rowdy Elliott Is Given Permission To Make a Deal. 'Rowdy' Elliott, former Oakland catcher and manager and last year with the Brooklyn Dodgers, has been given permission to make a deal for himself. The deal is for himself.

'SAVE THE OAKS.' IS STRONG PLEA OF PARK BOARD

Stately Old Trees in Indian Gulch Are Threatened With Destruction.

A desperate plea to save at least a few of the oaks after with Oakland was made yesterday afternoon by the Board of Park Directors in a resolution asking the City Council to secure the few remaining acres in Indian Gulch before they are cut up into lots.

Incidentally, the place is now Indian Gulch. It used to be Trestle Glen, but the Park Directors asserted that Trestle Glen has since been in a disfavor, so the older name has been formally substituted. As for asking, that some quick action be taken to save the oaks, the Park Board says:

"We would be remiss in our obligations if we did not call the attention of your honorable body to this present situation."

The Park Board asserts that it is "very strongly of the opinion that the magnificent grove of oaks should be preserved, as it is the last grove of oaks of great age in the city."

TREES IN DANGER

The attention of the City Council is directly called to the fact that real estate operators are about to sell the trees and clear the grove so as to sell lots. It is also called to the attention of the Council that the real estate company's plan call for a street 44 feet wide, which the Park Board asserts is inadequate under any circumstances. The Park Board recommends the following:

1.—That the Council shall not approve any subdivision wherein the streets are only 44 feet wide.

2.—That to preserve the grove of oaks the same methods should be used by which the city purchased other park property.

The latter recommendation refers to the old plan of purchasing by contract, paying a specified sum every year.

The Park Directors urge that 25 acres, embracing those oak trees, be purchased before it is too late, and also that a street 60 feet wide be ordered run through the grove.

ONCE VAST PARK

This is the last campaign concerning the old and famous Trestle Glen, over which discussion has raged for years, and for which at least one bond issue was asked for its purchase. Trestle Glen in Indian Gulch as it is now known, was once a vast park where the people of the bay cities rambled for miles and enjoyed themselves. Unusually it has been cut down and converted into real estate agents and builders.

Finally the major portion of the uplands above the little valley in Trestle Glen was laid out into building lots and paved roads and built-upon. The city of Oakland, however, took the place of shady glades and sunny hills. With the approval of the map of the tract by the City Council recently, the larger part of the old Trestle Glen disappeared.

The Glen was once a prime item in a great chain of parks devised by city planners and others to beautify the city forever. A map of those dream-parks is still on the walls of the Park Directors' rooms. But all that is now left of Indian Gulch is the small tract with the oak trees.

"Unless the City Council's measures are prompt, it is admitted that the oaks will be cut down some time before another year is passed."

COST IS ASKED

The resolution of the park directors, appearing in the City Council this morning, was supported by Marston Campbell, who made an address to the council. The council at Campbell's suggestion finally requested the Mayor to set a date for an informal discussion with the park board on the subject.

"The city of Oakland will lose something it will always regret if those oaks are lost," said Campbell. "Members of the council pointed out that the people have voted down some measures for the purchase of park lands in the vicinity, and asserted that their duty in the matter was vague without some indication of the wishes of the people."

"All that I have spoken to are with us," said Campbell.

It was finally decided that at the discussion the park board will present with facts and figures as to the expected cost of the purchase of the oak tract in Indian Gulch.

'Torture' at Alcatraz

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 29.—Protests against the alleged use of "torture cages" at Alcatraz Island army disciplinary barracks in San Francisco Bay were telegraphed to Secretary of War Baker today by a committee of Palo Alto club women, it was announced here.

The women allege the prisoners who refuse to work are forced to stand in the iron cages ten days at a time. The cages are said to be 14 inches deep and 24 inches wide, making it impossible for an inmate to change his position or sit down.

Attempts to get in touch with Colonel J. D. McDonald, commandant at Alcatraz Island, and Lieut. Bellone, on duty as adjutant with respect to the action of the Palo Alto club women proved unavailing.

Shell Shocked Veteran "Wakes" Up After Three Weeks "Lost"

Lying on his cot at the Oakland Emergency Hospital, Albert McLeod of Clinton, Washington, shell shocked veteran and former principal attendant at the hospital, shell shock, who woke up yesterday in Oakland, after having wandered through three states, called all morning for his wife and begged that he be sent to her at once.

"Let me sleep," he told the principal attendant, "and I can forget that I'm here, there in Washington and thinking that I have deserted her or that I am dead. Please let me sleep and forget."

Vegetable trucks thundered by the hospital, their muffles wide open.

"Why do I keep hearing those guns?" McLeod asked over and over, living his days on the western front when a shell fell in a dugout occupied by him and several companions, the explosion of which sent him to the hospital a few weeks. It was at this hospital where he met a Red Cross nurse, whom he later married when he attained the rank of captain.

MEMORY IS RECOVERED

McLeod walked into the police station last night and asked the name of the town and date. When told that he was in Oakland, California, and that the date was December 29, he exclaimed:

"It's after Christmas and my wife is at home."

He then related that two weeks before Christmas he and his wife wife goodbye at their ranch near Clinton, Washington, and drove to town with a sack of potatoes.

Nothing that took place until he awoke yesterday in Oakland.

The police, thinking they had a lunatic to deal with, locked the man in a cell. He was later removed to the hospital at the request of ex-service men who investigated his story. McLeod weighed but 112 pounds. When he entered the Canadian army in 1914 he weighed 180 pounds.

SURVIVOR OF BATTLE

McLeod is an American. He was a member of the 15th Canadian Engineers, composed entirely of Americans. Of McLeod's company but three survive the battle of Puchendolla Ridge. He was Marion C. Elliott, army aviator and former lieutenant who won fame as a pilot in the transcontinental air race held last spring, today has a divorce decree from his wife, Amyeta Elliott, granted him by Superior Judge James G. Quinn. Testimony was introduced in the case by Elliott's attorney, Louis B. Yungo, who is now in the service. Mrs. Elliott was away in the service. Mrs. Elliott was away in the service. Mrs. Elliott was away in the service.

ALLIANCE WANTED

Shilo Seducci, a San Francisco painter, indicted for paying his divorced wife, Mrs. Elsie Spedacci, manager of an Oakland apartment house, alimony, but told a San Francisco judge that if she will marry again he would pay $200 to get her a wedding present. Mrs. Spedacci has started an action to have a statement of the divorce given her. At the time of the divorce in 1914, Spedacci gave her the income property which they had owned together. A compromise was effected when Spedacci agreed to improve the property.

CRUELTY CHARGED

Samuel W. George, realty dealer, with offices at 2718 Chester street, today divorced a woman, Mrs. Alice M. George on charges of extreme cruelty. George also named A. J. Tanyer as co-respondent in the action, and testified that he followed his wife to Tanyer's home one night and saw her enter, pull down the shades, and turn out the lights. This was done on the witness stand by Mrs. George.

DIVORCE DENIED

Mrs. Gussio Jones was denied a divorce from William H. Jones, a detective by Superior Judge Fred V. Wood last night. The couple met and married through a marriage agent. Mrs. Jones, the agent testified that Mrs. Jones had already made application to her to get a divorce in preparation for the time when she would be free from Jones. Testimony showed that the Joneses had quarreled over the management of the dyehouse and cleaning business owned before the marriage, by Mrs. Jones.

HUSBAND RESTRAINED

An order restraining Norman Ellis, worth, realty operator and ranch owner, from disposing of ranch properties worth $250,000 has been secured in Superior court by Mrs. Marvel B. Ellisworth, 2522 Lawton avenue, Oakland, pending her divorce action. Mrs. Ellisworth charges that her husband left her on November 15, 1917, and went to live with Katherine Miller.

A SINGLE WEEK OF COURTSHIP

A single week of courtship was "enough" for Minola Copp Tindell, 1818 Tenth street, and Arthur Burns shell shocked and twice wounded, and later gassed. He was sent back to Canada, where he met the Red Cross nurse he later married. He was discharged from the army last January in a weak condition. He and his wife bought a small farm near Clinton, Wash., and raised garden truck. He often suffered from a collapse of the shell shock, but was each time cured for by his wife, who had handled hundreds of similar cases.

WHEN MEMORY FLEW

Then he left for town on that morning two weeks before Christmas and forgot everything. He doesn't know what became of the team of horses he drove to town. He doesn't know what disposition he made of the wagon load of potatoes. When he left home his wife was ill and it was his one ambition to get enough money to send her to a specialist in Alberta. What her condition is now, following his disappearance, he does not know. It is this that is worrying him.

Upon awakening yesterday he appeared normal until after he had been placed in a cell, and later taken to the hospital. The suspense of waiting to hear from his wife, who will be notified as soon as the authorities at Everett, Wash., can locate her, is worrying him.

"Oh, God, the poor girl needed me so, and she may be dead!" he sobbed. "Take me back to her."

LIEUTON MEN TAKE CASE

Oakland Post No. 5 of the American Legion took the case in hand today and will see what can be done in the way of providing funds to transport the man back home. There is no money in the treasury for such purposes, but the adjutant, W. T. Hopkins, who is investigating, said today that there would probably be some way of providing transportation.

In the meantime word is expected from the north relative to Mrs. McLeod.

The word is in general the war is over, but for Albert McLeod it is being fought today. He is living it over again—hearing the shriek of shells and the rolling artillery fire coming on his call at the Oakland Emergency Hospital.

TRIBUNE TO TELL STORY OF LIFE OF MARY PICKFORD

Screen Artist Will Give First Narrative of Career for This Paper

"Mary Pickford, Her Life Story," as Told by Herself, and "White Shadows of the South Seas," two of the greatest books of the year, will appear for publication shortly in the Oakland TRIBUNE exclusively in the San Francisco Bay district.

Mary Pickford's life story has been told by her to Hayden Talbot, noted journalist, sent all the way from London by Lord Northcliffe to Los Angeles to be material for the book which was first to be published in the Northcliffe paper, "Answers." It is the rights to this work that the Oakland TRIBUNE has secured for its readers. Publication will begin in the TRIBUNE at an early date.

SOUTH SEAS STORY

The other super-feature offered readers of THE TRIBUNE is the book of Frederick O'Brien, San Francisco newspaper man, which has not only brought fame to the writer but has proved the best non-fiction seller of the year. There is a tone of adventure, romance and poetry about the Marquesas islands and their white inhabitants that makes the narrative one long to be read and re-read. It will rank in the years to come with "Robinson Crusoe" and "The Swiss Family Robinson." Publication of "White Shadows in the South Seas" will begin in THE TRIBUNE shortly after the new year.

OTHER BIG FEATURES

Other big features have been signed by THE TRIBUNE in addition to the long list of top-notch fiction and special articles now running, such as the G. Henry stories, "Wild Life in California," by F. A. Leach, "Count Witte's Memoirs," "Autobiography of Andrew Carnegie," etc.

Among the new ones are: "The Civil War," by Ruby Ayres, biggest fiction success of years in England, rights for which have just been offered in America and signed for by the Oakland TRIBUNE.

"Would You Marry Your Husband Over Again?" by Edith Johnson. Miss Johnson's work has attracted wide attention. Her latest serial is the best she has written.

"Clarified Classics," by Anne Jordan, putting the great works of literature of all time into modern United States English.

"Holding a Husband," by Adele Garrison, to follow closely after "My Heart and My Husband," one of the most popular newspaper stories of the past year.

The Oakland TRIBUNE, delivered every day in the year for only 7 cents a month, is the biggest newspaper value in the United States.

Anderson Tells Lions

About 'Citizenship'

Speaking before the members of the Oakland Lions' Club at their weekly luncheon at the Hotel Oakland last night, Fred Anderson, Americanization leader in the Oakland schools, taking for his subject, "Citizenship," dwelt at length on the work done in the local schools during the past year to prepare the youth of today for the citizens of tomorrow. There is no better citizen, he pointed out, than the man who has been taught from beyond the principles of being a good citizen.

A Hawaiian sextet furnished the music. Plans were completed for the New Year's party of the club to be held in the Aradria race room on New Year's eve, when the local club will be host to the members of Berkeley and San Francisco dens. Reservations for the affair are being received by P. W. Woodward, secretary of the club.

The committee in charge of arrangements consists of Oliver Kehrein, chairman; George Warnock, E. O. Deming, J. Cal. Ewing, Ben F. Shaver, A. J. Fisher and P. W. Woodward. One of the features of the program will be a miniature cabaret performance, which will be presented by sixteen Oakland children under the direction of Kehrein.

OAKLAND GUNS PHONES

Figures compiled by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company show that Oakland is increasing in the number of telephones used faster than any major city in the state. The increase for the city over other municipalities at large one was pronounced. The total increase from January 1 to November 1 was 7.06 per cent.

Gas and Water Repairs Make Street Bumps

By the end of spring it is planned that there shall be about 50,000 less bumps in the streets of Oakland, but until the rainy season is over no attempt will be made to pave them according to a notice of the Street department, just outlined.

The bumps are caused by gas and water mains. When a street is paved, it is altered by irritated autoists that the gas and water workmen immediately cut nice slices across the paving and dig their sewers or trenches. The industry compels them to refill the trenches, but the soft earth soon packs down and the unsuspicious autoist lands in them, to the detriment of auto and driver.

Residents of Grand avenue allege that they have two prize bumps, one of them entitled to national reputation.

The city is supposed to re-pave these diggings, charging the cost to the gas and water companies. The street department admits, however, that by the time a street has been dug out, the industrious gas and water-main diggers have constructed two or three first-class bumps somewhere else, running the street department faster trying to keep up with them. There can be little permanent paving during the winter, however, so it is anticipated by the street department that the gas and water diggers will have achieved a lead of 20,000 or so by the time the spring paving season opens.

TRIAL OF SOLDIERS

At Manila Delayed

MANILA, Dec. 29.—Arraignment of 77 constabulary soldiers on charges of murder in connection with the riots of December 15, which resulted in 11 deaths, today was postponed indefinitely upon request of the defense counsel. Trial of these soldiers on sedition charges opens January 2, the remaining 69 having pleaded guilty.

It is understood the murder charges will be taken up after completion of the sedition trial.

The riots of December 15 between the Manila police and Filipino constabulary soldiers resulted in the fatal shooting of four Americans and seven Filipinos.

They grew out of ill feeling existing for months between the Manila police and the constabulary.

HARRISON RULE IN PHILIPPINES HELD WASTEFUL

Merchant Association Head of Manila Sees Need For Treasury Aid.

Declaring the policy of Governor Francis Burton Harrison is directly responsible for the present financial conditions existing in the Philippine islands, which are practically demoralized, and that market conditions in the islands are in a slump, Harold M. Pitt, for five years president of the Manila Merchants' Association, who is making his home in Oakland following 22 years spent in the islands in active business participation, today bitterly criticized the methods of Governor Harrison and said that he is spending three times as much as was spent under previous administrations.

Pitt, who was formerly manager of Bradstreet's in Salt Lake City, resides at 250 David avenue. He went to the islands in 1898 as a volunteer soldier and remained there after being discharged from the service. Although having retired from active commercial life in Manila, Pitt still owns much property and industrial interests in the islands.

RECKLESSNESS CHARGED

The finances of the islands can only be remedied by the United States treasury coming to the assistance of the insular government," said Pitt. "A bond issue might do this. Financial recklessness, as in this country, has been the policy of the government in the Philippines."

"The government is spending three times as much as was spent under the previous administration. It has accomplished nothing in the way of developments and the road system of the islands is rapidly deteriorating, while the revenue is being used to pay political followers and industrial interests in the islands."

RIGHTS ARE SECURE

"Manuel Quezon, president of the native senate, boasts that no new administration can take away any of the rights which have been given them under Harrison and therefore the people feel secure. But the new administration will clean up and revise the present methods. It necessarily it will take drastic steps to make the government efficient. It will only supplant the Filipino officials with Americans."

Pitt declared that the islands are now in a slump in his opinion. Markets for sugar, coconut oil and many other products are at a low level. There are 44 bequests in all.
